4 MARCH

THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO

Scanned Whistler 2006.

Handwritten drum notation on four staves. The notation uses vertical strokes of varying lengths and patterns to represent different drumming techniques. The staves are color-coded with horizontal bars: blue, red, green, and blue. The first three staves end with a vertical bar, while the fourth staff ends with a double bar line. The notation includes various rests and specific stroke patterns indicated by numbers above the strokes (e.g., '4', '3', '3+4', '3 4 9').

Below the notation, five cloud-like boxes contain the following text:

- 13 STROKE ROLLS
- 7 STROKE ROLLS
- PLAMS
- TRILLS 3
- SINGLE FIVES
- 6 STROKE ROLLS
